

FOREWORD

which meet the need for energy saving. We at Kawasaki Steel will continue to produce materials which help to maintain the harmony between the growth of human civilization and the global environment with a forward-looking attitude, oriented toward the future possibilities of the 21st century.

It is our hope that this edition of Kawasaki Steel Technical Report, which is the first special